DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

- 1. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered. Applicant should note that some of the US Patent Numbers listed in the Specification do not match those in the IDS.
- 2. The information disclosure statement filed June 27, 2001 fails to comply with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97, 1.98 and MPEP § 609 because the second sheet appears to be missing, i.e. there is a single sheet, labeled "Sheet 1 of 2", in the file. It has been placed in the application file, and the information referred to on Sheet 1 has been considered. Applicant is advised that the date of any re-submission of any item of information contained in this information disclosure statement or the submission of any missing element(s) will be the date of submission for purposes of determining compliance with the requirements based on the time of filing the statement, including all certification requirements for statements under 37 CFR 1.97(e). See MPEP § 609

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Pat. No. 5215504 to Wong et al.

Wong et al. disclose a power transmission belt having an inner surface with transverse grooves 18 and grooves12, which are straight and therefore extend longitudinally. The transverse grooves are not perpendicular to the longitudinal direction of the belt. The transverse and longitudinal grooves form rows of cogs 13 which are randomly arranged along the entire length of the belt and have at least six different longitudinal lengths, including three different longitudinal lengths, as seen in figure 2A. No more than four adjacent rows of cogs have the same longitudinal length, as there are no more than four longitudinally adjacent rows of cogs shown on the belt of Wong et al.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 5. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Pat Nos. 5,055,090 to Miranti, Jr. in view of 5,328,198 to Janne.

In reference to claims 1-4, Miranti, Jr. discloses the claimed invention except for the transverse grooves being not perpendicular to the longitudinal direction of the belt.

The belt of Miranti, Jr. has cogs of five different longitudinal lengths, which includes three different longitudinal lengths. Miranti discloses a sequence of lengths in which no more than two adjacent rows of cogs has the same longitudinal length. Janne teaches that it is known to make the transverse grooves not perpendicular to the longitudinal direction of the belt. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to align the transverse grooves of Miranti, Jr. at an angle less than 90 degrees relative to the longitudinal direction of the belt as taught by Janne, since Janne teaches that such a modification would eliminate hinge points in the belt.

In reference to claim 5, since there is no showing of unexpected results associated with the claimed sequence, it is seen as an obvious matter of design choice to provide the belt of Miranti, Jr. with the claimed sequence as an obvious variant of a random pattern of longitudinal lengths.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art shows various belts utilizing different and random cog lengths as well as non-perpendicular grooves.
